

Praise for *Sailing with the Wind of Freedom: Lascarina Bouboulis and the War for Greek Independence

"...The characters are well developed, both emotionally authentic and historically grounded, and they bring the world of 19th-century Greece to life. Andreyev's grayscale illustrations elegantly complement the text's imagery. An engaging novel about the life of a fascinating historical legend."

- Kirkus Reviews

"...The road to freedom was long, complicated and dangerous, as Kaye makes clear in a richly told story that engages with themes of love, families, war, and oppression. Bouboulina's life in crucial ways mirrors that of Greece itself..."

- BookLife Reviews

"Sailing with the Wind of Freedom helps fill an important gap in children's literature, stories of strong women who have fought for their country's freedom. Lascarina Lazarou Bouboulis is Greece's Joan of Arc."

- Claire Rudolf Murphy, author of Gold Rush Women, Daughters of the Desert, To the Summit and many other award-winning books for children

"This passionately told and beautifully illustrated story of an exceptional woman transports the reader into the heart of the Greek struggle against the Ottoman Empire. Lascarina overcomes seemingly impossible odds and oppressive traditions to become a true folk hero."

- E.V. Svetova, author of Print in the Snow and Over the Hills of Green

"We are indebted to Katherine Kaye for giving us the story of Lascarina Bouboulis, the Themistocles of her generation. The prose flows beautifully, a great read for all ages!"

- John Lee, Ph.D., Head of Upper School at the Geneva School of Manhattan

"An inspiration to young and old alike, especially to girls...though men and boys will like it just as much. The battle scenes are authentic. It is a story of swashbuckling adventure, fast-paced and riveting..."

- James H. Lagos, attorney and advocate for the rule of law for Greece and Cyprus

"Masterfully illustrated in a uniquely Byzantine style, this book is a precious discovery for a collector of luxurious editions."

- Cate Hendrickson, editor at Ananke Press

"...Brings the gift of learning to people of any age as it introduces them to the woman who helped move Greece toward a life of independence."

- Effie C. Doscas, Director of Sunday School at the Greek Orthodox Cathedral of The Holy Trinity in New York City

“...Should be in every school library to introduce students to this important part of Greek history.”

- Veda Bell, former elementary school teacher
